Art Unit:

Claims 133-140 are presented for examination.

The Amendments and remarks filed on August 15, 2001 have been received and entered.

Claim 134 contains the trademark/trade name Lipofundin and Intralipid . Where a trademark or trade name is used in a claim as a limitation to identify or describe a particular material or product, the claim does not comply with the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph. See Ex parte Simpson, 218 USPQ 1020 (Bd. App. 1982). The claim scope is uncertain since the trademark or trade name cannot be used properly to identify any particular material or product. A trademark or trade name is used to identify a source of goods, and not the goods themselves. Thus, a trademark or trade name does not identify or describe the goods associated with the trademark or trade name. In the present case, the trademark/trade name is used to identify/describe an agent for preservation of isolated cornea and, accordingly, the identification/description is indefinite.

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 133-135 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102 (b) as being anticipated by Rieger. Reiger teaches the use of Intralipid in an ophthalmic composition. Such composition reads on the composition of claims 133- 135.
